MEET THE STAFF - DAMIEN

Meet Damien, one of our senior housekeepers, who has worked at the hotel for four years now. This Barnsley-born and bred Yorkshireman has graced our hallways for four glorious years, leaving a trail of immaculately prepared bedrooms in his wake.

Leaving school at sixteen, he decided to go and have some fun working at Butlins Holiday Camp in Skegness as a kitchen assistant. Several years and a few holiday romances later (what happens in Skegness stays in Skegness, right?) He then returned to Barnsley and continued his hospitality adventures.

But his heart has always belonged to Blackpool. Many a childhood holiday was spent here, staying with his aunt who ran a guest house. In 2004, he moved to Blackpool for good, a decision we wholeheartedly approve of.

Damien is happy at the Craig Y Don and likes the staff at the hotel. He loves to take pride in his work, with his unparalleled ability to make a bed so perfectly.

He’s been single all his life and when asked why? He says he can’t live with anyone!

Damien is a connoisseur of 80s TV, especially comedy programmes such as Rising Damp and Only Fools and Horses. He also gets his groove from trans music and like any modern-day man, gaming on his PlayStation.

Damien is a die-hard Blackpool FC supporter and a season ticket holder. Yes, that's right, he strategically avoids working Saturday afternoons! (We're still figuring out how he pulls that off, but we're not complaining.)

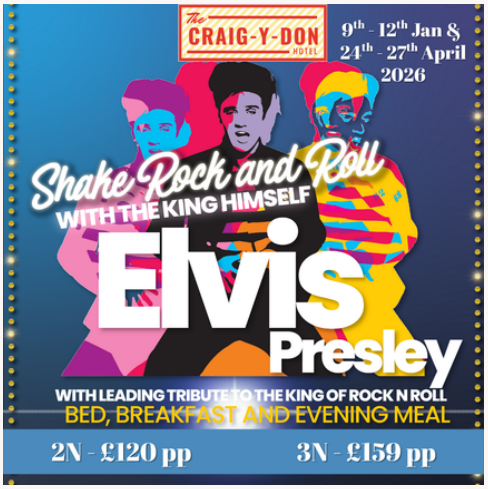

Finally, for a fun fact, Damien is a dedicated vinyl record collector. He boasts a collection of 80s music, which he lovingly spins on his record player.
